Program Requirements

Organoleptic Analysis, a very engaging exercise to gain a deeper knowledge of EOs as you explore their aromatic nuances & actions over a period of 2-3 days. Essential oils for this exercise are purchased separately. Use the highest grade possible. They do not need to be purchased all at once; you may buy as you are ready for them and, if desired, you may purchase wholesale through me.

Tests: Open-book, self-check exams at regular intervals to reinforce your understanding of the material.

Study Cards: A flash card highlighting each of the 54 essential oils in the course. These cards are a great help in preparation for the final exam, and very useful as a quick reference for using EOs in the future.

4 Blending Projects with brief written report for each.

Ten Consultations: Reports required for 5 hypothetical scenarios which are outlined in the course, and 5 live consultations with your friends or clients including interviewing your client, creating blends, providing instructions for use, follow-up and documentation for each case. Supplies such as bottles, jars, carrier oils, etc, are purchased separately and resources for these are given in the course.

Two Case Studies with blending, client follow-up, and brief written reports.

Research-Interest Paper: A 5-10 page paper based on an aromatherapy topic of your choice. It might be your response to an article you have read, a problem you see within the field, a particular wellness issue you feel aromatherapy could benefit and why, a profile of an essential oil not given in the course, etc. Choose what appeals to you, citing references and resources used for your paper.

Final Certification Examination: The final exam is closed-book and requires a 75% pass score.

Course Evaluation: Your feedback provides valuable insights for course improvements and revisions, and is a legal requirement for my records.

Course completion is required within 12 months with an extension if needed. You will be awarded the title of "Certified Clinical Aromatherapist" and can be very proud of accomplishing a comprehensive 400-hour program. Course transcripts and certificate will be mailed or emailed to you. Course completion awards Florida licensed massage therapists with continuing education hours.

Full support is provided during the course by Denise Wickell via phone or email. Once enrolled, full course tuition is required and is non-refundable. A payment plan is offered.
